

Boy Scout Week To Begin Today

Fun, fellowship and public recognition is on hand for every Boy Scout unit during Boy Scout Week, which will be celebrated throughout America today through Feb. 13.

Ron Field is chairman of the Scout Week committee, which has prepared a "full week of Scouting" which every unit may participate in within their local community, and win recognition ribbons at the same time.

Serving on the Scout Week committee with Field are: S.L. Garafalo, Centinela; George Moonsian, El Rio; Harold Wennstrom, Harbor; and Paul J. Richards, Midland.

SPECIAL participation ribbons will be awarded to units which make a window display as part of the B'nai B'rith window display program.

Scout Week activities for units are:

Thursday, Feb. 7—"A Scout and his Community." Assist or participate in a community activity recognizing Scouting— or conduct some service for an organization or group in your area.

Friday, Feb. 8—"A Scout and his Country." Assist or participate in a flag ceremony at some public or civic function— or— visit a local government of civic building or meeting.

Saturday, Feb. 9—"A Scout and his Duty to Family and Home." Participate in or conduct a family activity— pack meeting— court of honor— or pot luck and demonstrate your skills.

SUNDAY, FEB. 10—"My Duty to God." Participate by services in your own church or synagogue (on the appropriate day) or attend the presentation of religious awards by the pastor of the families own church or synagogue.

Monday, Feb. 11—"A Scout and his School." With the cooperation of school officials, participate in a school assembly— or— conduct flag raising ceremony at school— or have a Scout display in the school lobby.

Tuesday, Feb. 12—"Physically Strong—Mentally Awake and Morally Straight." Every Cub, Scout and Explorer set his personal objective for advancement and a plan for the meeting of this objective— or— every boy start his physical fitness program and set a date for its completion.

"Children are what parents mold them; small wonder that parents scold them."
